

Low or No Income? Benefits to Filing Your Taxes!

You could be eligible for:

- Alberta and Canada Child Benefits,
- Carbon Tax Rebates, and
- Disability Tax Credits.

Some people think it's not worth filing if they don't have much or any income to declare.

Make tax time pay, filing your income tax return could provide...

For Families

- Federal child tax benefit (up to $500/month/child)
- Provincial child tax benefit (up to $200/month/child)
- Universal Child Care Benefits

For Everyone

- Carbon tax rebate
- GST/HST refunds
- Medication payment assistance
- Provincial medical premium assistance

For Seniors

- Old age security
- Nursing home, community, or rental living support

For Students

- Education tax credits and deductions
- Student loan interest deduction

Need help filing your taxes?

If eligible, you can participate in the Community Volunteer Income Tax Program (CVITP)

Eligibility for the CVITP

Taxpayer status	Annual Household income
Single person	up to $30,000
Couple	up to $40,000
One adult with one child	up to $35,000
For each additional child	$2,500 additional income

CVITP cannot be accessed, if:

You have self-employment income
You have business or rental income and expenses
You have capital gains or losses
You have employment expenses
You have filed for bankruptcy in the past

FREE year round assistance to file your income taxes is available by appointment:

Golden Circle 403-343-6074

Deacon's Outreach 403-346-5659

John Howard Society 403-343-1770

If you want to file your own income tax return online, go to turbotax.ca